We are pleased to invite you to participate in The 4th Workshop on Biogenic Trace Gas (BTG Workshop). The workshop is aimed at (1) exchanging scientific information, knowledge and experiences on Biogenic trace gas study including reactive hydrocarbons (terpenoids and others), inorganic gases and greenhouse gases except for CO₂, and (2) making Asian regional human network in this research field for future collaboration. The workshop will comprise a regular scientific session with oral presentations and an early-career session for graduate students and early career researchers. English will be an official language of the workshop. We look forward to your contribution and participation.
